

CONSOLIDATED RISK MANAGEMENT

Medical Billing Advocacy

When major illness strikes a family, the emotional toll can be overwhelming. But because of an increasingly complex medical system, the overwhelming paper work and financial toll can also add to the strain.

Studies have shown that a sizable percentage of medical bills from hospitals and health care providers contain errors. Incorrect coding of procedures can significantly alter the cost to the patient.

Further, failure of the hospital or medical provider to pass the bill on to an insurer can cause the patient and family to be responsible for a charge that would otherwise be paid by their insurer.

Consolidated Risk Management's medical billing advocacy reviews your bills for accuracy, insures that claims are being processed and works with the family to ensure that you pay only what you owe.
